Now I say to you, dear children. You must stay close to me as much as you can. My road is endless. Today, I tell you something very big. I wish you all the best for all you do for Me. I will give it back to you. all these years he never left me once alone I will also accompany you in every step you take This is a way to teach those who come after you Try to bring some young people, even some children Sunday I decided for the pilgrimage And try to bring a great people to you. I want to say to you: Let your road continue until eternity. I want to make you a great blessing. I greet you by passing over My hand with My Hand.
