

I've been waiting for you so much Now I tell you dear children, you have to always think about my writings I've written everything that my people need to know But does not want these papers to not admit the Great Truth I have said several times: For that people I did so They arrive by themselves They will have to say, "I received what I deserved" But when he says these things is too late But those who follow the Lord have told them many times Those who have drawn back this lesson have understood the Great Truth But the people never reflect on these things Do you care about those who leave you from Me But I saw you understood it And I tell you, "Good, good" No one should do this injustice to the Lord One by one I try to raise everyone So I understand my children and grandchildren I have called my people many times But they also laugh at Me Thank you so much Do not worry Go up if they answer badly I will give them to understand his answers Many say, "It is not the Lord" because he says, "The Lord will not say these words" Instead I am who I say these words I greet you with great goodness In the Heart For the Sunday you want to go with me first you all agree Now I greet you Come Always Soon.
