

Always do what I command you The Lord says: "This is the path we must do" Follow me more than you can Bring many young people and many children And say them: "The Lord awaits you" Because children must also feel the Word of the Lord This is a very important thing. Educate the children according to My scriptures. Because I also speak for the children. You have to get them used to being small. The Lord is in your midst. All of you want My path never to be interrupted. that goes and that comes forever There are, as I told you, the Greatest Shrine There are more people who see Me To those who see Me try to tell them that I am not the Truth So you will see how they react No one should allow this injustice Because when the eyes saw them he also transmitted them to the heart. This is why you can not forget my words and my pro I am waiting for you constantly, day and night If you want to come even at night I am present Here there will be another pilgrimage Do it more in the Now it is too hot I salute See you soon.
