Now I tell you or dear children Every time you have come I have been present before you My path is endless Do the impossible to follow me And bring with you a great people But I see: My children are not all there Follow Me Because I am the Father of all the children In this tent I am always present, day and night At all the hours you want to find me you can come Because this Tent was commanded by Me And I said: "I want a tent like that of My Father when they brought the chosen people to the promised lands "There are always My image here and that of My Mother There are several people who see Me And pass My words to all the family and friends and relatives

Now I greet you dear children Do the impossible Because I am Here I wait for you continuously Now I leave you Greetings See you soon.

