

I tell you or dear children, always follow My way I am the Absolute Master of all things You have to obey My Will Come before Me as much as you can I am continually as I told you All the hours you want to come I I am always present And ask me for what you need I will wait for you continuously This day I wait for you so much that you can not imagine I wait for you as the father who awaits his children I tell you Always reflect My words And you can understand how the fathers are waiting for his children Tell me or dear people if you can forget this path I am here among you To reassure you there are people who see Me So no one can say I'm not the Truth Follow me always I love you more than your parents In the end I will show you the Great Truth I Qua, since I started this journey, I had always and a great people who come to see me Tell me if you want to follow me But I know, I read your mind and your heart And I thank you so much for your goodness Here there are My images and My words These are not even in the greatest sanctuaries As I told you, Here is more than a shrine I asked: I wanted My Church If there is someone who wants to commit it can Do it Look Here also the other nations I greet you with a great blessing Come always See you soon .
