

I am the One who must do all things This morning you are all sad My presence here, I tell you or dear children, that these things the people do not want to accept them But I will make them repent bitterly They came with all the snow, with a great cold And instead the more you go on and the more people show that they do not need the Lord Take courage I will always be there until eternity I have said these things many times, but the people do not care here There is an infinite greatness Those who have come from the beginning still come with so much suffering. Take courage. When there will be so cold those who can not come do not come. I will always be there. They go to places because they all go. Here is the Lord who is waiting. he understands these things, which puts Jesus in second place, then he wants to prove many great The people if they say it alone how big it is M I will do the same thing I said that I pay with what I collect Then there are those who complain I have long since reported this place I have reported a very long and large place that includes all the coast along the sea case to these things But I have explained well all things Read the scriptures and then you will see the Great Truth I greet you or dear with a great sadness, but I bless you equally passing with My Hand above each of you Come always See you soon.
